Natasha Jain (she/her)

Actor & Facilitator

Natasha is a British-born actor and facilitator. A key member of the Dramatic Difference team, she works as Client Partner to co-create Learning & Development programmes with our clients that optimise the use of experiential and Theatre-Led Learning approaches.

After graduating from the University of Warwick with a Bachelor of Law degree, Natasha worked for leading law firms including Allen & Overy, and Simmons & Simmons. Over the subsequent decade she extended her career into HR, Human Rights, Marketing and Sustainability, while working with Bank of America Merrill Lynch, and a number of start-ups and boutique consultancies. Natasha brings her stakeholder relations and communications experience to bear in the leadership learning space.

Alongside her work in theatre-led learning design and facilitation, she continues to work as a professional actor. She brings applied theatre methodologies (using techniques such as roleplay, realplay, forum theatre, playback, improvisation and storytelling) to workshops around inclusive leadership, effective teamwork, psychological safety, communication & dialogue, team building & engagement, stress management and resilience, and professional/personal wellbeing.

Recent clients include

Allen & Overy, APG, Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner, Chubb, Fortnum & Mason, GLG, Liquidnet, Prudential, Woolworths Group Asia

Passion, Purpose & Personal

Natasha loves to build genuine connection with clients, and is invested in delivering learning outcomes. She continues her passion for the stage, with credits including A Midsummer Night's Dream, The Craft, the world premiere of The Butcher by Andrew Biss and a number of off-Broadway appearances. She continues to develop as a director, and is a well-regarded vlogger, voice-over artist and radio presenter. An adoptive mother, Natasha seeks to leave a better world for her son and is a passionate environmentalist known for her commitment to recycling and upcycling.

Testimonial

"[F]antastic session this morning Natasha! What an impact you've made with our top talent across APAC. Looking forward to future partnership!"
